Dear Emma,

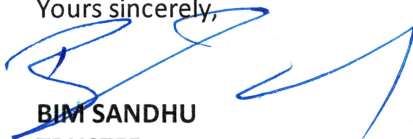

It was a pleasure to meet you at the LSE annual event celebrating volunteering and fundraising at my alma mater, The London School of Economics, on Wednesday 8th May.

When I first heard that Find Your Feet were one of the three charities chosen for the LSE Rag Week I thought it would be fitting to do something which helped one of my favourite charities as well as using it as an opportunity to re-engage with my alma mater and to give 'something back'. At the time it seemed a great idea to match fund what the LSE students managed to raise for Find Your Feet in the hope that this would encourage them to raise more. However, it dawned on me nearer the event that the law of unintended consequences might have come into play – whilst I obviously wanted to help out one of my favourite charities I did not want to do so if it was potentially at the expense of two other very worthy causes; namely yourself and Richard House Children's Hospice. There are a lot of clever students at the LSE! As I said in my brief speech I therefore thought the best way to make sure that you were not disadvantaged was to make sure that we made an additional contribution to both of you.

I therefore have great pleasure in attaching a cheque for £5,000 made payable to The Haven and I know it will be put to a very good use. Please continue with the great work that you do. We should be grateful if you would let have us have a receipt for our files in due course.

With very best wishes.

Yours sincerely,
