Dear Bim & Pardeep

Thank you very much for your generous donation of £15,000 as part of your pledge to support Young Enterprise in West London over a number of years.

Your continued commitment to invest in the next generation of young people in West London is incredible and gives Young Enterprise the security we need to continue to provide high-quality enterprise and financial education opportunities. Your support this year will help us reach a further 350 young people to gain hands on experience of business and develop a range of employability and enterprise skills. By working with young people whilst they are still in education we will empower them to broaden their learning and ensure that they are best prepared to gain employment or start their own enterprise and succeed in this.

Your annual support is crucial in enabling us to provide effective and consistent support to young students year after year. As I hope you saw when we met at Spitalfields Trade Fair not just at Downing Street, but also at the Company Programme Final and Spitalfields Trade Fair, how vital our programmes are for nurturing the potential of the next generation of young people, helping them transition successfully from education to employment.

I hope that this letter will also be sufficient as a receipt for auditing purposes, although if you need anything further please let us know.

Thank you once again for your commitment to our work. I look forward to seeing you again and further demonstrating the impact of your generous support.

Very best wishes
