Dear Mr Sandhu

On behalf of Macmillan Cancer Support, thank you and your co-trustee for the generous donation of £5,000 from The Sandhu Charitable Foundation. Please find enclosed an official donation receipt for your records.

I was saddened to hear that two of your employees have been impacted by a cancer diagnosis, but pleased that our Macmillan nurses have been able to support them.

We know that being told you have cancer is not only difficult for the person receiving the diagnosis but for their loved ones and colleagues as well. For this reason, our Macmillan Support Line is available to anyone who may need our help on 0808 808 00 00.

Our Macmillan nurses give medical, practical and emotional support to the growing number of people living with cancer. Our services help people to face the many challenges that a cancer diagnosis can bring, including helping them to feel less isolated and more in control of their lives.

Every day, 1,000 people in the UK get told they have cancer so we need to continue to invest in our services. With 99% of our income reliant on voluntary donations we can only do so with the help of our supporters. Your kind donation will make a concrete difference to the lives of people affected by cancer and I would like to thank you once again, for this wonderful gift.

We look forward to keeping you updated on Macmillan's work. In the meantime, I would very much like to meet with you to talk further about our services, and to explore whether there might be an opportunity to work together. If you are interested, please do not hesitate to contact me and I will happily arrange this.

Thank you very much on behalf of the many people who will benefit from your generosity.

Yours sincerely
